1.2 Bidders shall provide full and accurate answers to the questions posed in this RFP document, and, where required explicitly state either “Comply/Not Comply” regarding compliance with the requirements. Bidders must substantiate their response to all questions, including full details on how their proposal/solution will address specific functional/technical requirements; failure to substantiate may lead to the bidder being disqualified. All documents as indicated must be supplied as part of the bid response.

1.3 Failure to comply with Mandatory Requirements may lead to the bidder being disqualified.

2. Purpose

The dti wishes to appoint a service provider to develop a roadmap, for the purpose of assisting the local Electric Multiple Unit (EMU) and passenger coaches manufacturing sector in meeting the OEM technical requirements on price, quality, safety and lead times during the procurement of designated rolling stock components, by undertaking a detailed industry analysis on the rail sector. The appointed service provider shall deliver the report within agreed budget, timelines and milestones.

3. Background

In May 2016, the Minister of Trade and Industry launched the eighth edition of the Industrial Policy Action Plan (IPAP) 2016/17 – 2018/19. IPAP recognizes the Capital and Operational Expenditure (CAPEX and OPEX) by government and agencies as an opportunity to resuscitate the local industrial capacity and capability and build new export niches through supporting high-level of local content. The IPAP re-enforces the pillars of the Supplier Development and Localisation Programme as currently committed to and implemented by State Owned Companies (SOC).

The rail sector is one of the key sectors prioritised in the IPAP with great growth potential for creation of new decent employment, innovations and business opportunities. The collaboration between Department of Trade and Industry (the dti), Department of Public Enterprise (DPE), National Treasury, SOCs and the industry at large has resulted in rail rolling stock designation in 2012. The Designation provides a framework to achieving a minimum local content threshold on different rolling stock classes i.e. diesel locomotives: 55%; Electric locomotives: 60%; Wagons: 80%; and Electric Multiple units (EMU): 65%.

In response to government target of 75% local content across government procurement, the IPAP has prioritised the continuous support and monitoring of the designated rolling stock components. Currently, a number of key rail rolling stock projects are being implemented by Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa (PRASA) and Transnet Freight
Rail (TFR). PRASA is involved with Alstom-Gibela for the design and manufacture of Electric Multiple Units (coaches) at 65% local content and TFR’s 1064 locomotive programme delivered by four OEMs: General Electric & China North Rail for the manufacture and supply of 465 diesel locomotives at 55% local content; and Bombardier & China South Rail for the manufacture and supply of 599 electric locomotives at 60% local content.

In 2016, Gautrain Management Agency (GMA) issued a request for qualification (RFQ) with a minimum local content of 65% for the design, manufacture and supply of 12 four-car EMUs with a minimum of 15 years maintenance plan and associated depot infrastructure. The evaluation of RFQs is currently underway with GMA envisaging to finalise this process and issue a Request for Proposal (RFP) to qualifying bidders for the design and supply of EMU before the end of September 2016. The expected delivery schedule on this envisaged procurement is 2017-2018.

4. Problem Statement

The historic disinvestment in the rail industry and the challenge of balancing the government mandate meant that associated industries supplying key service in rail rolling stock sector were faced with sustainability challenges. This is as a result of lumpy, ad hoc procurement and unrealistically short delivery times often requested by SOCs and government departments during procurement processes and it undermines the sustainability of the local industry.

One of the difficulties facing local systems or component manufacturers when they try entering the supply chains of OEMs concerns the testing of components which requires huge capital outlay for product development and training costs. Within the PRASA’s EMU contracts the local industry is reporting major challenges with meeting the OEM price and quality standards during the project implementation and the situation is now at the level where operational costs are unaffordable with potential to derail the localization programme.

Again, the previous procurement on EMUs by Gautrain Management Agency (GMA) has not been able to sustain the capacity and capability for local assemblers such as Union Carriage and Wagon (now CTLE) and other key suppliers of components. The inefficient low-volume and the lack of continuous orders has led to the deterioration on the investment necessary to reskill the staff, acquisition of resources and equipment. This lack has also led to the increase in import content in the sector as key components for the maintenance of the Gautrain rapid rail link system are being imported from overseas.

With the envisaged procurement of EMUs by GMA, there is an urgent need to leverage on the procurement of these EMUs and maximise local content on their associated systems and components. The aim is to create sustained local value addition, jobs and competitive industrial capacity. The value chain in these areas must therefore be revamped for the purpose of increasing the designated local content and creation of future export markets.
5. Objective

The objective of the study is to undertake an in-depth industry analysis on the rail EMU and passenger coaches sector and then develop a roadmap for the purpose of assisting the local manufacturing sector in meeting the OEM technical requirements on price, quality, safety and lead times. The study will focus on EMUs and passenger coaches as procured and operated on the PRASA and Gautrain rapid rail link network. This study will assist in the development of:

- Appropriate policy levers to integrate local industry into global value chains;
- Targeted support programmes for component manufacturers with respect to skills development around process engineering and materials

6. Methodology

6.1 The service provider is required to identify and use appropriate quantitative and qualitative methods, as appropriate.

6.2 The service provider is required to use appropriate research techniques or approaches based on the need to involve and achieve the highest participation rate possible of individual companies / industry associations into the process.

6.3 The service provider will also identify stakeholders to engage in the process.

7. Scope of Work

The scope of work to be undertaken during the project includes all work required to undertake the study to address price, quality, safety and lead times on the procurement of designated rolling stock components in relation to rail EMU and passenger coaches. This work must be undertaken to a level that is sufficient to determine the feasibility of each proposed solution or action plan. The following elements must be taken into consideration when undertaking the study:

- conform to the dti’s Industrial Policy Framework and IPAP;
- comply with the National Treasury instruction notes on rail rolling stock sector;
- be consistent with all other government policies and initiatives;

Disbursements

Total Bid Price (VAT Excl.)

Notes on pricing:

- Disbursements (incidental expenses other than professional fees e.g. travel and accommodation, printing costs, venue hire, and equipment hire etc.) must be clearly defined, outlining all assumptions. It is of utmost importance to submit clear and comprehensive cost proposals to allow the IDC to fairly compare bid price / cost proposals. If there is no additional fee envisaged for Disbursements, then the bidder must clearly indicate “No Charge / Free of Charge”. Failure to clearly indicate this, would result in IDC penalising your bid response by taking the cost of the highest bidder and adding 50% thereto and apply this rate for purposes of price comparisons. Bidders are therefore requested to respond clearly and comprehensively on this aspect of their bid response.
The bidder must provide a detailed breakdown of the Disbursements as follows:
