14. Promotion of Emerging Black owned Service Providers

It is the IDC's objective to promote transformation across all industries and/ or sectors of the South African economy and as such, bidders are encouraged to partner with a black owned entity (being 50%+1 black owned and controlled). Such partnership may include the formation of a Joint Venture and/ or subcontracting agreement etc., where a portion of the work under this tender would be undertaken by black owned entities. To give effect to this requirement, bidders are required to submit a partnership / subcontracting proposal detailing the portion of work to be outsourced, level of involvement of the black owned partner and where relevant, submit a consolidated B-BBEE scorecard in-line with the provisions of the PPPFA Regulations which will be considered as part of the B-BBEE scoring listed in 13.3.

SECTION 2: SPECIFIC CONDITIONS OF BID

1. Bid Pre-qualification criteria

- 1.1 In terms of Regulation 4 of the 2017 PPPFA Regulations, the IDC requires that bidders meet the following pre-qualification criteria:
 - (a) Bidders must have a minimum B-BBEE contributor status level of 4 or better.
- 1.2 The IDC will only consider a bid if the relevant bidder meets these pre-qualification criteria. Where a bidder fails to meet these pre-qualification criteria, the bid will be considered an unacceptable bid and will be disqualified from further evaluation.

SECTION 3: FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENTS SPECIFICATION

SECTION 3: FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENTS SPECIFICATION

- 1.2 Bidders shall provide full and accurate answers to the questions posed in this RFP document, and, where required explicitly state either “Comply/Not Comply” regarding compliance with the requirements. Bidders must substantiate their response to all questions, including full details on how their proposal/solution will address specific functional/ technical requirements; failure to substantiate may lead to the bidder being disqualified. All documents as indicated must be supplied as part of the bid response.
- 1.3 Failure to comply with Mandatory Requirements may lead to the bidder being disqualified.

2. Purpose

The IDC administers the Industrial Policy Support Fund (IPSF) on behalf of the Department of Trade and Industry ("the dti"). This tender is therefore facilitated by the IDC on behalf of the dti.

The Industrial Policy unit within the Department of Trade and Industry (the dti) seeks to obtain the services of a capable service provider to conduct a study on port tariffs, port inefficiencies as well as port tariff methodologies used by other countries and how these methodologies contribute to industrialisation objectives.

3. Background Information

Administered prices are prices set through a regulatory framework where the market alone would not have ensured an efficient outcome. Prices of certain products in South Africa are determined, not by the forces of supply and demand, but by various regulatory agencies. Administered prices play a crucial role in the competitiveness of a country's economy, and the level of administered prices is therefore important to drive economic growth.

One such type is the determination of port tariffs. These include prices for:

- Container handling.
- Berthing.
- Cargo dues.
- Running of ships lines.
- Wharfage charges.

The price or tariff which is charged for port infrastructure and services should be proportional to the costs incurred, taking into account the cost to handle the cargo, marine services and the time which the infrastructure is used. South Africa's relative high port charges do not complement government's industrialisation strategy to grow the manufacturing sector and the export of value-added manufactured products.

The economic regulation of administered prices should lead to efficient prices – in terms of the overall level at which prices are set and the relative structure of prices for different services or volumes of usage. Efficient pricing is not necessarily synonymous with a reduction in prices. However, poor price administration procedures may also lead to prices that are inefficient because the prices are below a level that would reflect efficient costs.

South Africa has eight commercial ports with four ports (Durban, Cape Town, Port Elizabeth and East London) being multi-purpose, two ports (Saldanha and Richards Bay) are predominantly bulk ports, one port (Mossel Bay) is a fishing port and supplies the offshore oil and gas industry, whilst the port of Ngqura handles cargo and bulk cargo. These ports are operated and managed by Transnet and Transnet National Ports Authority (TNPA) charges tariffs to users to make use of the ports infrastructure and port services. That process is done through the Ports Regulator that gives approval for the tariffs charged by TNPA in accordance with the National Ports Act, 12 of 2005. On an annual basis TNPA must submit to the Regulator an application regarding the tariffs it anticipates to charge to port users for the services and facilities it provides. The Regulator is also required when determining the tariffs for TNPA, to ensure that the tariffs allow TNPA to:

- Recover its investment in owning, managing, controlling and administering ports and its investment in port services and facilities;
- Recover its cost in maintaining, operating, managing, controlling and administering ports and its costs in providing port services and facilities; and
- Make a profit commensurate with the risk of owning, managing, controlling and administering ports and of providing port services and facilities.

The Regulator would then assess the application from TNPA, as well as all other submissions and comments by stakeholders. After reviewing all inputs received, the Regulator announces its decision in a Record of Decision.

In order to speak to industrialisation and localisation, the Ports Regulator in consultation with the dti and other stakeholders, have developed the Port Tariff Incentive Programme. This programme allows industry to apply for an increase or decrease in cargo dues imported or exported from South Africa, in dry bulk or liquid bulk format. However, value-added exports are exported in containers that falls outside the scope of the programme. Therefore companies exporting value-added products cannot make use of the programme as their value-added exports are not exported in dry bulk or liquid bulk format.

4. Problem Statement

South Africa's ports play a crucial role to facilitate trade as around 96 % of our exports, in volume terms, are by sea. Therefore, the competitiveness of our ports has a direct bearing on the competitiveness of our industrial sectors and exports of mineral products. The expansion of ports also contribute to job creation in any country's economy. The growth of the economy is in part dependent on adequate port infrastructure, and the efficiency of that infrastructure and pricing to use the infrastructure are very important.

TNPA owns all the eight (8) ports in the country and this has contributed to a situation where port charges in South Africa:

- are higher than international tariffs; and
- efficiency levels are lower.

Due to a lack of competition within / between the various ports, there was little incentive for TNPA to improve productivity levels in the ports, maintain the infrastructure required to provide services, and invest in additional infrastructure. Prior to the establishment of the Ports Regulator, TNPA's 'self-regulation' led to a situation where the pricing of tariffs were not in line with major ports around the world. Another factor having an impact on the efficiency of Transnet is the fact that Transnet is the landlord of the ports through TNPA and it also owns Transnet Port Terminals (TPT) which is the main user of the ports. This poses a conflict of interest for Transnet, and the fact that Transnet uses cross-subsidisation which leads to under-investment in port infrastructure. This cross-subsidisation that is largely funded by port revenues creates distortions and places an undue burden on importers and exporters.

Furthermore, the National Ports Act allows the Regulator to only regulate TNPA and not companies providing port services. This exclusion is important because port services account for a relative high share of the costs to move cargo through South African ports. Also, TNPA cannot be involved in providing port operations, and as landlord, it should ensure that licensees and concessionaires provide efficient terminal operations and port services to all port users. TNPA should have been established outside of Transnet as a separate state owned company. Due to the fact that Transnet owns TNPA and is a major provider of port services through TPT, there is a conflict of interest in allowing TNPA to regulate TPT and to restrict access to TPT's competitors.

The relative high port tariffs charged by Transnet is reflected in the Ports Regulator's sixth update on Global Price Comparator Study, based on tariffs for 2017/18. The study compares port prices for a single vessel in South African ports compared to other ports in the world. Overall, the study found that cargo owners paid a 267% premium in 2017/18 above the global sample average. The study further indicated that containers, which are used to export value-added products, are still significantly more expensive than the sample global average. Container costs, including terminal handling charges are still 166% above the sample global average. It is significantly higher compared to the 88% above the global sample average in 2016/17. Although the premium came down from 360% in 2012/13 to 166% in 2017/18, the costs still remain significant. In addition, there is still cross-subsidisation between manufactured goods in containers and bulk commodity exports.

Cargo dues for containers are 267% above the global average. In contrast to the 267% premium on containers, cargo dues for dry bulk commodities are below the global average, 62% for coal and 26% for iron ore. The premium paid to export value-added products compared to raw materials or commodities are against the industrial policy objectives of the country.

The National Industrial Policy Framework and IPAP seek to grow and transform the country's industrial base through a range of transversal and sectoral interventions. One of the policy objectives under IPAP is to promote the exports of value-added products across the IPAP priority sectors. Export intensive sectors under IPAP are mineral products; precious metals; vehicles, parts and accessories; base metals and machinery and equipment. However, the competitiveness of our value-added exports is also influenced by cargo dues. The cargo dues paid by exporters is based on the tariff methodology used by the Ports Regulator.

As from 2009, TNPA has to apply to the Ports Regulator for the tariff adjustment on cargo dues and other marine services. The Ports Regulator uses the formula below based on TNPA's tariff application the organisation submits on an annual basis.

The Revenue Requirement for TNPA is calculated as follows:

$$RR = (v-d+w) r + D + E + T + /-C + /-ETIMC + /-WEGO$$

Where

- RR = Revenue Requirement
- v = value of assets in the regulated services
- d = accumulated depreciation on such assets
- w = working capital
- r = return on the capital reasonably expected
- D = depreciation accounted for in the period of the tariff
- E = operating expenses
- T = taxation expense
- C = claw-back
- ETIMC = Excessive Tariff Margin Credit
- WEGO = Weighted Efficiency Gains from Operations
- (v-d+w) = Regulatory Asset Base

The formula has little scope to address industrial policy imperatives. As a result, the study should indicate which methodologies are used by other countries to address high port tariffs and their own countries industrial policy objectives.

The Record of Decision by the Ports Regulator based on the above formula determines the tariff adjustment on container cargo dues for the following financial year.

For the 2019/20 tariff year, cargo dues on exports are as follows:

Dry bulk	R20 per ton
Liquid bulk	R40 per kilo litre
Breakbulk	R31.50 per ton
6m/20' containers	R572.43
12m/40' , 13,7m/45' containers	R1 144.87

Source: Ports Regulator

Based on the existing formula, at the moment cargo dues on the exports of raw materials are lower compared to cargo dues on exports of value-added products. This anomaly goes against what IPAP seeks to achieve in terms of promoting exports of beneficiated products.

The formula used by the Ports Regulator has been developed so that TNPA can cover their costs as well as make a profit in the provision of port services. As a result the components of the formula does not speak to the industrial policy objectives as contained in IPAP and it is therefore very difficult to provide input on TNPA's tariff requests each year given the limitations of the formula as it relates to the policy objectives under IPAP.

5. Objectives

The main objective of the study is to develop concrete proposals to address the constraints relating to port tariffs and inefficiencies. This study intends to look at alternative methodologies being used around the world by the Ports Regulators and other Port Authorities and their strategic roles in advancing industrial development objectives.

This will determine the required interventions, namely:

- (a) Increase value-added exports
- (b) Increase competitiveness and employment of companies exporting
- (c) Decrease in administered prices as it relates to port tariffs
- (d) Increase in efficiency of our ports
- (e) Increase in spending on port infrastructure
- (f) Decrease in cross-subsidies by TNPA
- (g) Improve export capacity and capability of firms
- (h) Port tariff methodology that speaks to industrialisation objectives

6. Methodology

The service provider is expected to propose a robust process that will deliver the strategic objectives of the dti as it relates to port efficiency, administered prices in the form of port tariffs and the promotion of value-added exports. Apart from outlining and reaching agreement with the Project Management Team on the methodology that will be used to conduct the study, it must at least be in accordance with generally accepted practices of research inclusive of policy/strategy analysis and development and a set of recommendations arising from the research. Stakeholder engagement through interviews and meetings with relevant stakeholders will form an important part of the study.

7. Scope of Work

The service provider is expected to conduct the assessments at the bare minimum required to cover the following areas:

- The scope of work to be undertaken should be based on achieving the objectives of the study. The work must be undertaken to a level that is sufficient to determine the feasibility of each proposed intervention.
- The report should have a clear strategy to deal with administered prices of ports and port logistics issues, as well as recommendations for either an alternative methodology the Ports Regulator can use or components that can be added to the existing methodology in order to ensure the methodology speaks to industrialisation and a tariff setting process to help to promote value-added exports.
- The study must:
 - Identify constraints relating to port logistics and inefficiencies;
 - Develop a clear strategy to address the constraints;
 - Identify port tariff setting methodologies used by other countries and the policy objectives of those methodologies in particular leading exporting countries;
 - Identify port tariff methodologies that contributes to industrialisation and value-added exports; and
 - Identify components that can be part of a methodology to promote value-added exports.

8. Deliverables

The service provider will be required to produce:

Phases	Activities	Outputs	Timeframes
Phase 1.	Inception Report	Upon appointment, the service provider will be expected to draft an inception report that will detail the overall approach, methodology and expected timeframe in which each phase of the project activities will be completed. The inception report will serve as a discussion document and will be the basis on which the detailed approach to the project is agreed upon. CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.
- 2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.
- 3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.
- 4 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.
- 5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.
